

FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS

Remembering the Declaration of Independence,
its Extraordinary Events and Courageous Americans

PUBLISHED BY AMERICA'S FAMILY FOUNDATION
INDEPENDENCE, MISSOURI

Copyright 2007 Preservation of the Arts, Inc.
www.americasfamily.org

FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

The lives and dedication of our Founding Fathers and Mothers are constant reminders that we are blessed beneficiaries of a freedom earned by great sacrifice of property, reputation, and life. It is our responsibility and opportunity to instill the sacred principles contained in our remarkable heritage into the hearts and minds of our youth. We have the obligation to rekindle the flame of liberty that existed well over two hundred years ago among those who pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor—to nurture, teach, cherish and protect our Constitutional Freedoms given to us by God.

Copyright © 2007 Preservation of the Arts, Inc.
Published by America's Family Foundation
Independence, Missouri • Toll Free 1-877-252-9820
Script Copyright © 2000 by Ronald M. Mann • Used by Permission
All Rights Reserved • Made in U.S.A. • International Copyright Secured

Table of Contents

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow	i
Table of Contents	ii
For Such a Time as This	1
Give Me Liberty, or Give Me Death!	3
The Star-Spangled Banner (song)	8
Seeds of Independence	9
Continental Congress	11
War Had Already Begun	13
Signing of the Declaration of Independence	14
Carefully Considered	16
Faith Of Our Fathers (song)	17
Faith of our Fathers	18
The Promise (Declaration of Independence)	23
God of Our Fathers (song)	28
Five Points of Discussion	29
A Warning with Encouragement	34
Welcome to America’s Family Foundation	36
Note Pages	38
Recommended Reading List	40